WE WANT YOU TO SUCCEED!

A message to candidates for ARICP certification

by Cameo Miller, member of the Evaluation Panel

Many people have spent time writing this booklet that is sent to you when you request information about ARIA. And yet it seems to us that some people may not really read it, as the materials they send in are nowhere near the standards requested and required for certification. So please read this booklet, which is comprised of tips and hints to help you succeed!

- Read the information sent to you thoroughly and completely! This booklet is a detailed description of what is expected on your video, descriptions of the levels of certification and teaching specialties, and much more. Read it all! It has suggestions about what you need to study and know for each level and for the various tests.
- Now re-read the video section. We must be able to see and hear what you are teaching in order to be able to evaluate it. Make a test copy before you do the final version so that you can correct any technical problems you may find. Review your final version to be sure it is exactly what you want to show. Remember - this should be an example of your best work. Everything doesn't have to go perfectly - a good instructor takes advantage of, and is able to adjust to, the lesson to fit what is happening. And you can control how safe your lesson area is, and what you and your student look like.
- Please note that your video must show teaching at the highest level applied for. You may present a perfectly wonderful lesson of teaching a beginner to post the trot, but this is not a Level III (advanced) lesson.
- For both tests and video, you must show us what you know. We cannot read minds and do not assume you know more than is presented to us. (If you think about it, that would be a very dangerous thing for us to do!) This is especially important for Level III candidates to remember, as they sometimes assume that something is taken for granted because they have done it for so long. This doesn't mean that you have to write down or explain everything you have ever known for every question and situation, but do be complete with each response to each question, and explain information on the video so that it is clear that you are paying attention to basics and safety, and know the reasons for your teaching methods.

- One of the questions that we frequently ask candidates is how high the standards for certification should be. The typical response is "very high, but not so high that I can't pass". Remember that these are national standards. There is not one Level III for Hunt Seat in Texas that means more than the one for New York; or a Level II Dressage that is different in Virginia than it is in Montana. The certificate you earn is recognized in any state in the union (and most foreign countries). You take it with you wherever you move or travel to teach. So you are being judged by national standards. This means that you must show a very high degree of knowledge, safety, and professionalism to pass. It should also be a source of great pride to know that in earning your certification you have met standards required of all instructors no matter where they may live and teach.

ARIA is not a training organization. We assess, to the best of our ability, the knowledge you already possess. So it is important that you demonstrate the full extent of your knowledge during the video and testing process.

ARIA is not a training organization. We assess, to the best of our ability, the knowledge you already possess. This is why it is important that you demonstrate the full extent of your knowledge during the video and testing process.

We work hard to create a situation where you will find the process a learning experience. Your scores will help you define your strengths as well as your weaknesses, so that the true success of the experience is that you become a better instructor. You will find people to network with to help you in your business, as well as with any future problem areas, and you will receive ideas to help you improve your own business. You will meet friends and colleagues so that you don't feel so isolated, or that there is no one to help you during difficult times, and lots of information to help you be the best and most competent instructor you can be.

ARIA is based on cooperation rather than competitiveness. Not everyone who applies is certified. We maintain very high standards so that having this certification means something to you as well as to the industry as a whole. If you do not earn certification, your scores will tell you the areas to improve in, so that you can become certified in the future.

We want you to succeed and will try to help you do this as much as possible. But, it is for you to actually do—we can't and won't do it for you. It is your knowledge, professionalism, and ability that must be demonstrated for you to be ARIA certified. We wish you the best!

“Thank you for being such a fabulous association and for giving such personal attention to each one of us. I appreciate all of your support.”

Jennifer Nicolella, Cottonwood, Arizona

Getting Started And What To Expect

Want to become an ARIA-Certified Instructor and enjoy the benefits?
Here's how to take part in ARIA's testing and certification program

1. Register well in Advance

You may register on-line at www.riding-instructor.com
Or Mail your application to:

ARIA
PO Box 366 Alton, NH 03809-0366

Enclose full payment by check or money order, or write in your MC/Visa/Discover/AmEx credit card number, expiration date, security code and the name and billing address on the card. Be sure to circle which level and specialties you want to be certified in, and which Test Center you wish to attend.

2. Know what to expect

Test Centers are usually held in a hotel meeting room or if you wish to test fully Online, we now offer that opportunity. You will be notified before the Test Center date of the exact location. The day usually begins at 9:00 A.M.

Plan to arrive about 15 minutes early. Hand in the two essay tests which were enclosed with your acceptance letter and which you completed at home. (Be sure your name is on the cover of the tests!)

Also hand in your two required photographs (a head and shoulders photo, and one of you mounted on a horse) and video for each specialty you have applied for. (Level I candidates do not need to submit a video.) Be sure your name is on your pictures and video. Write the level and specialty applied for (i.e. Level II Dressage) on your video's label, along with the date and location of your Test Center.

Note: YouTube videos are preferred. Please e-mail the link to ARIA prior to testing.

9:00 A.M. - Welcome and introductions. Candidate Presentations. Testing begins. Each candidate for certification takes the Level I/II tests: The Horse, General Horsemanship and Level I/II specialty tests for each specialty applied for; i.e., Hunt Seat, Dressage, Western, etc.

Each test has an allowed completion time of one hour. Questions include true/false, multiple choice and fill-in-the-blanks. Some require a brief written answer.

Candidates for Level III first take the Level I/II tests;

IMPORTANT: PLEASE NOTE: Candidates for ARIA certification must be able to speak, read, and write fluently in English, with no assistance. No special dispensations, provisions or considerations will be made in any way (no dictionaries, translators, computers or any other aids of any kind are allowed.) No one other than pre-registered candidates will be admitted to an ARIA Test Center. ARIA does not "grandfather" any other certification programs. ARIA testing must be done to earn ARIA certification.

then the Level III tests. These are: The Horse, General Horsemanship and a Level III specialty test for each specialty you have applied for.

For example, a candidate for Level II Recreational Riding takes 3 tests, while a candidate for Level III in Dressage and Show Jumping takes 8 tests.

Once a candidate has completed testing and his/her Candidate Presentation (CP), he/she may leave the Test Center.

3. Tips for Testing Success:

- Make your quest for ARIA certification a priority.
- Arrive on time, rested and at your best.
- Don't rush through your tests. Have your mind calm and focused.
- Leave any questions that you aren't sure of until the end of the test; then go back to them.
- Leave your barn and home in capable hands and forget them. Distractions or emergency calls will prevent you from doing your best.
- Take the time to do your video properly. Do it over two or three times if you have to. Be proud of it when you submit it, as it should be an example of your best work. Keep a copy for yourself.

Introduction

What is the ARICP?

Established in 1984, the American Riding Instructor Certification Program (ARICP) is a nationally recognized and respected program offered by The American Riding Instructors Association (ARIA) to recognize and certify outstanding teachers of horseback riding who instruct their students in a safe, knowledgeable and professional way.

Who is it for?

ARIA Certification is meant for the serious, above-average instructor who teaches safely and in a professional, competent manner, with high standards of honesty and integrity. Minimum age and experience requirements apply for each level of certification. See section on Levels for details.

How does the Certification procedure work?

ARIA certification is an important aspect of your career and requires that you make it a priority. The certification process is accomplished by evaluating your qualifications and teaching ability through written and oral testing, and, at Levels II and III, by a video. (See section on Videos for details) Instructors meeting the standards for a particular level will earn certification at that level.

ARIA offers certification to instructors in three levels of experience and in 16 teaching specialties. You pay the original fee of $595. to test in one or two specialties, at Level 1 or 2, only once - the first time you test. Anytime you test after that, the fee is just $350. You may apply to re-test for higher levels or additional specialties at any time, as long as you qualify for the age and teaching experience for that level.

Where is the Certification testing held, and what is the fee?

The testing is conducted at one-day ARIA Test Centers held throughout the year at different locations around the country. We now offer fully Online testing in the convenience of your home! Check our website: www.riding-instructor.com The fee is $595.00. for one or two specialties at Level 1 or 2, and $350. for each additional specialty after that. To test at Level 3, the fee is an additional $200. per specialty.

When a group of at least 6 instructors at a single location desire ARIA Certification, special arrangements can be made for testing at their site. It is also possible to test individually by appointment at many locations throughout the country. The fee for private testing is an additional $250.00. There is no fee for our private Online testing classroom options.

What are the advantages of being an ARIA Certified Instructor?

ARIA Certified Instructors have nationally-recognized credentials. Students, parents, and potential employers respect and appreciate the time and work that went into earning your ARIA certification.

ARIA is an association which promotes the quality of its instructors, not the quantity. ARIA does not hesitate to refuse certification to those who do not clearly demonstrate their competence.

ARIA Certified Instructors are listed in the Directory of ARIA Certified Instructors, on ARIA's website: www.riding-instructor.com and are issued a certificate and wallet card. ARIA Certified Instructors may obtain insurance discounts through several major insurance companies.

ARIA Certified Instructors also receive the quarterly magazine Riding Instructor and the monthly digital publication ARIA E-News. ARIA membership is included in their certification.

How do I apply for Certification?

Program size is limited, so it is important to apply early in order to assure yourself of a place. You should register at least 30 days in advance. Late registrations will be accepted only if there is sufficient room at the desired Test Center, and may be charged an extra fee for mailing materials overnight. You may register online at www.riding-instructor.com or by calling 603-605-5275, and may charge your fee to your Visa, MasterCard, Discover or American Express card.

Frequently Asked Questions

How do I prepare for testing?

You may find it useful to attend college courses, work under the tutelage of an experienced instructor, read books by top instructors in your field, and attend clinics and other educational opportunities with respected teachers.

What happens if I can't complete my video in time for the Test Center?

You may still take the tests for Level I certification, which does not require a video. As long as you pass the written exams with a score of 80 or above, along with the other required elements* (See page 16), you will earn the Level I certification. You may return to another Test Center or Test Online to seek a higher level and/or additional specialties at any time for only $350.00. Once you have paid the original fee to take the tests, you never pay the original price again, no matter how many times you return. In addition, you do not have to re-take any tests on which you scored a passing grade, as long as you take them within one year from your original testing date.

What happens if I can't attend the Test Center I have registered for?

Your fee may be applied to another Test Center. A change fee of $250. will apply. A date change will be allowed only once. Refunds are not given under any circumstances.

I've registered for Level III. What if I don't pass at that level, but I do pass at Level I or Level II?

You will receive certification at the level at which you do pass.

Is there riding at a Test Center?

No. It is your teaching ability and knowledge which are being evaluated.

What Should I Study?

ARIA does not require any specific books to be read in preparation for the tests. There are many excellent books available on every aspect of riding and teaching. The ARIA tests are designed to accommodate all reasonable and knowledgeable answers, without requiring a specific resource.

Candidates for certification should know parts of the horse, commonly used tack and saddlery items, and general principals of good teaching.

That being said, ARIA suggests that every candidate should have in his/her library the three USPC manuals, ($62.50 discounted price for all three) which may be purchased at <https://shopponyclub.org/products/uspc-manual-bundle?variant=999548937> These books, by Susan E. Harris and the United States Pony Club, are a fount of knowledge in every aspect of horse care and riding .

If you are taking a specialty which involves competition (such as Dressage) you should be familiar with the USEF Rule Book chapters for that specialty. Free access to the rule book is available at www.usef.org

When do I receive results?

It takes 2-4 weeks to carefully and fully evaluate exams and videos. Please do not call us for results. They are mailed to you as soon as we have them.

What if I have questions about my results?

A comprehensive and thorough evaluation is given to each applicant's tests and videos by members of the ARIA Evaluation Board. You will receive your test scores and a video evaluation score sheet, as well as your Candidate Presentation score and your PMAT (Professionalism, Maturity, Attitude and Temperament) score. No further review is given. Anyone not achieving the certification they desire may try again at the reduced rate of $350.

What if I have to register late (after the 30 days in advance)

We will accommodate you if there is room at the Test Center or if you are Testing Online. A small late charge may apply for over-nighting materials.

May I submit my essay tests, and photographs and videos after the Test Center?

No. All materials must be received at registration on the morning of the Test Center. Remember, It is YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to take all the tests you are supposed to take! Ask the Test Center Administrator before you leave if you have taken all your tests.

Will I get my photographs back?

No. They are retained as part of your permanent file.

If I want to discuss my test scores, or want additional help to score higher next time, should I contact ARIA?

No. In fairness to all candidates, no further information is made available. A comprehensive and thorough evaluation is given to each applicant's tests and videos by members of the Evaluation Board. No further review is given. Anyone not receiving the certification they desire may try again at the reduced rate of $350.00. (Those tests which are passed need not be re-taken if candidate returns for re-testing within a year following the date of the original Test Center.)

What are the "*other required elements"?

The American Riding Instructors Association takes great pride in the quality of the instructors certified by the organization. Therefore, along with passing the written tests, Candidate Presentation, (and video at Levels II and III), instructors must demonstrate, in every phase of their application for ARIA certification, clear maturity, professionalism, knowledge, attention to safety, and thoughtfulness and care in all details of their work. Sloppy work, not following directions, being late to the Test Center, not handing in required material at the requested time, etc. will all be taken into consideration in evaluation for ARIA certification. Your business telephone number voice mail/answering machine must have a professional message; your business cards and brochures must be of high quality, and your general attitude must be positive and pleasant.

Is it OK to hand in my materials (essay tests, photos, etc. in a folder or notebook)?

No. While we greatly appreciate your professionalism and effort, folders and notebooks must be dismantled for shipping purposes. Please staple together all the pages of each one of your essay tests, and initial each page. Be sure your name is on the first page of each test! Also, please label each video with your name, Level and Specialty applied for, and the date and location of the Test Center you are attending.

YouTube videos are preferred. Please e-mail the link for each video to ARIA prior to the test center, so we can test them to be sure they work.

I would like to test in more than two specialties. May I do that?

Yes. The initial testing fee of $595 covers your testing at Level 1 or 2, and in one or two specialties, or disciplines. If you want to apply for a 3rd or 4th discipline, you may do so at the extra fee of $350. per discipline. You may not apply for more than 4 disciplines at any one Test Center. For Level 3 testing, please add $200. per specialty.

I want to apply for certification at Level 1. I won't reach the minimum age of 18 until 2 weeks after the Test Center. May I still test?

Yes. Since you will receive results 2-4 weeks after the testing, by the time the results are ready, you will be 18.

I want to apply for Dressage at Level 1, and Driving at Level 2. May I do that?

Yes. As long as you meet the required minimum age and teaching experience for the Level you are applying for, you may apply for different levels for each specialty.

Levels of Certification

ARIA offers certification at three levels based upon the age and experience level of the instructor:

Level I Instructor in Training

Level II Instructor of Beginner through Intermediate

Level III Instructor of Beginner through Advanced

ARIA Certification is earned at one or more levels, and in one or more specialties.

An instructor may have different certification levels for different teaching specialties (see next section for information about specialties). For example, an instructor might hold a Level I in Hunt Seat and a Level II in Dressage. All specialties are available at all levels.

Certification at a particular level is determined by the candidate's test and video scores. Candidates for Level III must also take the Level II tests. In a case where an instructor does not get a passing grade at the level he/she has applied for but does pass the tests for a lower level, he/she will earn certification at the lower level. For instance an instructor who is testing for Level II in Hunt Seat would receive Level I in Hunt Seat if her test scores pass at Level I, but not at Level II.

Level I (Instructor in Training) Requirements

- Minimum age: 18 years; no minimum teaching experience required.
- Must pass all 4 general written tests with an averaged score of 80 or above.
- Specialty test scores must be 80 or above.
- No video of instruction is required.

This instructor has a good foundation as a horseman, but because of age or limited teaching experience does not qualify for Level II. ARIA is recognizing a foundation and a desire to become a certified instructor. Upon reaching 21 years of age, and with 3 years of teaching experience, this instructor may challenge the Level II certification. At that time, the candidate must provide a video and must re-take the written exams. The candidate with a Level I certification receives a discount when returning to take the program for full certification.

Level II (Instructor of Beginner through Intermediate) Requirements

- Minimum age: 21 years; minimum of 3 years of teaching experience.
- Must pass all general exams with an averaged overall score of 85 or above, and all specialty exams with a score of 85 or above.
- Must pass video evaluation for Level II.
- Must have a confident, secure and well-formed personal philosophy of riding instruction.
- Must clearly know his/her own personal strengths and weaknesses.
- Must have thorough knowledge of speciality taught.
- Must have good understanding of safety procedures, and use them.
- Has basic knowledge of horses and their care.
- Has awareness of styles of riding other than own specialty.
- Rides/has ridden at intermediate level or better.
- Can teach beginner through intermediate students in a competent manner.
- Has general knowledge of how horse and rider interact.
- Understands psychology of the rider.

This instructor enjoys teaching beginners and has the patience for the repetition necessary to develop new skills. The instructor does not rush his students or push them ahead of their physical ability, but allows time to form a solid riding foundation. A certified instructor is training a student to be a horseman, not just a rider. He is concerned with training his students to use proper safety practices and to continue using them as they develop in riding proficiency.

Level III (Instructor of Beginner through Advanced) Requirements

- Minimum age: 25 years; minimum of 6 years teaching experience.
- Must pass all exams with scores of 90 or above on each.
- Must pass video evaluation for Level III.
- Is an excellent communicator.
- Has an outstanding personal philosophy of instruction.
- Clearly knows his own personal strengths and weaknesses.
- Has a thorough knowledge of speciality taught.
- Has an understanding of safety procedures, and uses them.
- Has a thorough knowledge of horses and their care.
- Rides (or has ridden) at an advanced level.
- Has advanced knowledge of training horses.
- Knows the elements of styles of riding other than his own specialty.
- Understands the psychology of the horse.
- Has participated in competition, if competition is an integral part of the style taught.
- Has knowledge of the practical application of stable management and horse care.

The Level III instructor is able to teach the more advanced rider as well as the beginner and intermediate rider. The instructor has ridden at an advanced level and understands the problems of advanced riders. This instructor is concerned with solving problems, not just dealing with symptoms. The instructor can also help with the training of horses, and can deal with specific training problems of his / her students' horses. This instructor not only knows how horse and rider interact, but the "why's" behind it.

"Getting certified was one of the best things I have done!"
Robin Wolff, Oneida, New York

"I completed the certification at Level II and it was a wonderful experience.
I learned so much about myself just going through the procedure."
Skye Ackenbom, Riding Director, Camp Friendship, Palmyra, Virginia

"I appreciated and learned from the constructive criticism I received when I re-certified this year.
ARIA is a wonderful and very professional organization.
The magazine and its content are very helpful, too."
Beth Kuhn, Howell, Michigan

Specialties: The Areas of Certification

ARIA Certification is available in 16 teaching specialties.
Instructors may be certified in one or more of these specialties.

(One or two specialties are included in the program fee; there is a charge of $350. per additional specialty and no more than four specialties may be taken at any one program.) It is expected that attention will be paid to all safety aspects, i.e. approved protective helmets with chin strap fastened snugly, boots or shoes with a heel, protective vests in cross-country work, etc.

DISTANCE RIDING: ENDURANCE & COMPETITIVE

Level I

Knowledge of training, horsemanship, safety and good conditioning practices; also pleasure trail riding and organized group trail rides. Must have ridden a minimum of 50 competitive miles.

Level II

Same as above. Must have ridden a minimum of 200 competitive miles.

Level III

Same through open competitive trail division - 50 mile endurance rides. ECTRA and AERC rules. Must have ridden a minimum of 500 competitive miles.

DRESSAGE

Level I and II

Concepts, exercises and movements through 1st level. Must know USEF rules.

Level III

Concepts, exercises and movements through 3rd level. Video must show work at 2nd or 3rd level.

DRIVING

Level I and II

Knowledge of Pleasure Driving, correct and safe harnessing procedures, and training of horse and whip.

Level III

Ability to coach for Competitive Driving.

EVENTING

Level I and II

Knowledge of concepts & exercises of Dressage, Cross Country & Stadium Jumping through USEA novice level. Video for Level II must show ability to coach cross country work and relate flat work to jumping. We must see some work outside of a ring to pass an instructor as capable of teaching eventing.

Level III

Same as above, through USEA training and preliminary level Horse Trials (one day events). Video must show cross country lesson, and must address conditioning and preparation for this level.

Eventing videos must show work in all 3 phases, including work outside of the arena.

HUNT SEAT

Level I and II

Knowledge of equitation and exercises in flat work and jumping through 3' (Equivalent to USEF Limit Equitation), USEF rules for Equitation and Hunters. Counting strides, finding spots, simple changes, correct change over jumps, shortening & lengthening, etc.

Level III

Must show lesson relating flat work to jumping, suitable for riders who are capable of jumping 3'-3'6". (Note: It is not required that riders actually jump 3' to 3'6" in this lesson)

HUNT SEAT ON THE FLAT

All Levels: Knowledge of equitation and exercises in flat work only - no jumping.

MOUNTED PATROL TRAINING OFFICER

Level I and II

Knowledge of equitation and exercises in flat work, related cavaletti exercises, basic concepts and exercises of horsemanship, safety and conditioning. Knowledge and skills in training officers in police work as well as re-schooling mounts. Department of Criminal Justice Standards (DCJS) certification as General Police Instructor recommended but not required.

Level III

Knowledge of equitation and exercises in flat work and related exercises, knowledge and skills in re-schooling and re-claiming of mounts; knowledge and skills in all related Mounted Police procedures, patrol procedures, and unit objectives. DCJS certification as General Police Instructor highly recommended. Video and lesson plan required, utilizing an ARICP approved Mounted Police topic. (List of approved topics will be sent upon request)

RECREATIONAL RIDING

Level I and II

Teaches basic horsemanship to those who ride for pleasure and recreation with an emphasis on safety, a balanced seat, and a caring and responsible attitude toward the horse. May be English, Western or both. Includes instruction of beginners, the first-time horse owner, recreational pleasure and trail riding, and/or public or resort riding programs. (While instructors may teach students of different capabilities, the Recreational Riding Rating is not to be construed as a rating in Therapeutic Riding.) Safe trail riding and basic first aid procedures are emphasized.

Level III

Instructors who teach Recreational Riding beyond Level II are encouraged to seek Level II or higher certification in Hunt, Western, Saddle Seat or one of the other ARIA specialties. However, an instructor who teaches a program which exceeds Level II standards in Recreational Riding, but does not fall into any of the other recognized specialty areas, may apply for a Level

III rating in Recreational Riding. The candidate must be prepared to show that the standard of his/her teaching and program are the equivalent of Level III requirements for other specialties.

REINING

Level I and II

Must be able to instruct beginning to intermediate reining competitors.

Level III

Must be capable of instructing at all levels of reining and training horses as well as coaching for the USEF Reining Seat Medal, and should have some knowledge of other events which include reining.

RIDING TO HOUNDS

Pre-requisite to the taking of these tests, candidates must provide the ARIA office with proof that they are currently (and have been for a minimum of three years) a member of, or subscriber to, a hunt recognised by, or registered with, the MFHA, and must have been awarded their colors. A letter from the hunt's Honorary Secretary or MFH will be considered proof. In the case of a candidate who is no longer a riding member of a hunt, a letter from the same source indicating previous participation and awarding of colors will be considered.

Level I and II

Must demonstrate the ability to prepare riders for riding as members of the "flat" or hill-toppers field, able to ride safely over natural terrain, to control their horses in a large group and around hounds, and to be aware of the courtesies and correct behavior expected of a member of the field.

Level III

Must be able to prepare riders to take part as members of the field in a more active way, able to think for themselves in an emergency; to prepare them as safe members of the jumping field; and to impart a degree of understanding of actual hunting and "woodcraft." It is in no way expected, nor implied, that ARIA Riding to Hounds certified instructors should be able to train hunt staff.

SADDLE SEAT

Level I and II

Teaching and training basics through USEF Limit Equitation and saddle seat pleasure classes. Know USEF Equitation rules. Knowledge of various breed rules helpful.

Level III

Same as above, also including Open Equitation and Park or 3 gaited (or breed) classes.

SHOW JUMPING

Level I and II

Knowledge of flat and fence work, and USEF Jumper rules through ALL LEVELS. Teach through schooling jumpers (3'6"). Video for Level II must show jumping lesson relevant to this level.

Level III

Same through USEF preliminary and intermediate. (4'6"). Video must show jumping lesson relevant to this level.

SIDE-SADDLE

Level I and II

Introduction to side-saddle. Proper position at all gaits, training of horse to side-saddle, correct fitting of tack and equipment, correct turnout of horse and rider for both formal and informal showing.

Level III

Competitive side-saddle riding, USEF rules, basic work over fences (to 2'6"). Knowledge of various styles of riding side-saddle (i.e. hunt seat, western, dressage, saddle seat) and correct equitation and dress for each.

STABLE MANAGEMENT

An ARIA certification in Stable Management indicates that the holder of the certificate is certified in Stable Management. The holder of the Stable Management certificate may or may not also instruct others in Stable Management. Stable Management certification, just as all the specialties, may be earned at any one of the three levels.

STABLE MANAGEMENT VIDEO

for Level II and Level III

- Video not required for Level I

Applicant must provide a video of 20-40 minutes duration, giving the evaluators a "walk-through" of the barn for which the candidate is responsible and for which the candidate him/herself has done all the work which is seen in the video. The following should be included in the video:

A listing /showing of posted barn rules, warning and other signage. Emergency numbers and evacuation route.

- An explanation of how the stalls are prepared and how the barn is kept clean and organized.
- A demonstration displaying recognition and prevention of common ailments treated by a stable manager, such as thrush, saddle sores, and at least two others.
- A discussion of basic daily routines for grooming, feeding, watering and turn out of horses at the facility.
- A recognition of good and bad conformation in horses.
- An explanation of the use and purpose of common grooming implements.
- An explanation of stable dangers, such as barn fires, and what is done to prevent them.
- A description of how to recognize good and bad hay and feed. Describe/show storage of grain and hay.
- A discussion of various stable bedding methods and the benefits/drawbacks of each.
- A discussion of blanketing, summer sheets and other coverings used at your facility – when and why they are used.
- A discussion and demonstration of bandaging for travel and for at least two other purposes.
- A discussion of shots, worming, and keeping records.
- One other subject, of the candidate's choosing, which he/she feels is an important aspect of stable management.

WESTERN DRESSAGE

Levels I and II

Knowledge of the USEF rule book for the Western Dressage Division and understanding of the goals of Western Dressage. Ability to teach riders and horses, regardless of their background, through the First Level.

The video for Level II should demonstrate work on the elements of the First Level tests and should include a brief discussion of both the saddle and bridle/bit used and how they influence the horse and the rider in your lesson.

Level III

In addition to the requirements of Levels I and II, must show understanding of the progressive training of the horse towards higher degrees of collection, and ability to instruct the riders at the Second Level and above.

The video for Level III must include some lateral work (at a gait appropriate for the horse's level of training; for example, if the horse is just starting to learn half pass, showing the work at the walk is sufficient).

WESTERN EQUITATION/PLEASURE

Level I and II

Knowledge of Western equitation and Western pleasure, including USEF and/ or AQHA rules for these events.

Level III

Must show lesson suitable for riders who are capable of competing in Western horsemanship, and/or other performance events. (Lesson need not relate to competition, but must be taught to riders at this level.)

Candidate Presentation (CP)

The purpose of the CP is to evaluate your ability to teach a subject clearly and concisely. Are you knowledgeable? Can you communicate well? Can you teach a subject in a creative and interesting way? Each candidate is allowed 3- 4 minutes to speak. Please keep within that time frame - no less; no more.

Begin by giving your name, city, state, and your subject. Choose a topic to teach the group, based on some aspect of one of the disciplines for which you are seeking certification, i.e. explain the half-halt in Dressage, or how to count strides in Hunt Seat, etc. or you may teach a subject in another area in which you are knowledgeable and can impart information which would benefit other instructors, i.e. equine massage, business marketing, therapeutic riding, yoga for equestrians, how to deal with a problem client, teaching young children, nutrition for school horses, balancing your business and personal lives, etc.

The CP is an important component of your final score - prepare and be ready to do your best. Visual aids, handouts, etc. are all indications of good preparation. Remember - teachers must be able to teach. Stand up, be poised and confident, and show us an example of good teaching. We expect to see original, creative work. (Please do not bring in a copy of pages from a book or magazine and read it word for word!)

Note: In fully Online testing the Candidate Presentation (CP) is optional. We prefer you send a YouTube link or Dropbox/similar link via email.

Tests

Candidates for certification take GENERAL tests to evaluate their basic knowledge and SPECIALTY tests to evaluate their knowledge of the specialty they teach.

ALL candidates take the General Tests and the applicable Specialty Tests for Level I-II. Candidates for Level III will also take the Level III tests.

GENERAL TESTS

PHILOSOPHY TEST - Sent to all applicants before the Test Center; to be completed at home at the candidate's own speed. It consists of 10 essay questions. Its purpose is to give the candidate the opportunity to express his/her personal philosophy of teaching riding as well as his/her attitude toward the sport. For preparation, solidify your thoughts on your philosophy of riding and riding instruction. Consider your own riding ability and how it affects your teaching both positively and negatively. Think about the types of students you like to teach and why.

GENERAL INSTRUCTOR TEST - Sent to all applicants before the Test Center; to be completed at home at the candidate's own speed. It consists of 10 essay questions. Its purpose is to give the candidate an opportunity to demonstrate ability to communicate his/her knowledge clearly and to handle, in a decisive way, problems commonly faced by riding instructors. For preparation think of situations dealing with clients, students and horses which you have encountered as an instructor. How have you handled them, and what would you do differently if you could?

Level I/II THE HORSE TEST - The first test each candidate takes at the Test Center. One hour is allowed. True or false, short answers, multiple choice and "fill in the blanks" questions are all used. The purpose of this test is to determine the candidate's knowledge of horse anatomy, common bits and types of saddles, and common veterinary knowledge. As preparation, you should know points of the horse, conformation defects, basic horse care and be familiar with different types of commonly used tack.

Level I/II GENERAL HORSEMANSHIP TEST - The second test each candidate takes at the Test Center. One hour is allowed. Short written answers, multiple choice, and true or false questions are used. The purpose of this test is to evaluate the candidate's knowledge of General Horsemanship. As preparation, think about the explanations you give students to help with common riding problems.

Level III THE HORSE TEST - This test is taken only by Level III candidates and is taken after completion of all Level II tests.

It is similar to the Level II The Horse Test but with a higher degree of difficulty.

Level III GENERAL HORSEMANSHIP TEST - This test is taken only by Level III candidates and is taken after completion of all Level II tests. It is similar to the Level II General Horsemanship Test but with a higher degree of difficulty.

SPECIALTY TESTS

Each specialty test is designed to test the candidate's knowledge of the specialty he/she has chosen to earn certification in. One hour is allowed for each specialty test. The tests may include true/false, multiple choice and short answer questions. As preparation, review the rules & characteristics of the applicable specialty.

Other Required Elements

CANDIDATE PRESENTATIONS

Please see information on page 14.

(Scored 1-5, with 5 being the highest score)

Professionalism, Maturity, Attitude & Temperament (PMAT)

Each candidate for certification is evaluated on these 4 attributes.

(Scored 1-5, with 5 being the highest score)

Plan to dress comfortably at the test center.
Slacks, shirt and sweater (in case the testing room is cool) are always a good choice.
Barn clothes are not appropriate, nor do you need to dress in riding clothes.

Test Scoring and Videos

The test scores required for each level follow. If a candidate achieves a passing grade at a level lower than the level for which he/she has applied, than he/she will be certified at the lower level. For example, if a Level III candidate does not pass the Level III tests but does pass the Level II tests, she will earn certification at Level II.

Level I Candidates must score an average of 80 or above on the four General Tests and a score of 80 or above on each Specialty Test taken. The CP must be scored at 3 or above.

Level II Candidates must score an average of 85 or above on the four General Tests and a score of 85 or above on each Specialty Test taken. The video must be passed at Level II and the CP and PMAT must be scored at 3 or above.

Level III Candidates must score 90 or above on each test taken, the video must be passed at Level III and the CP and PMAT must be scored at 4 or above.

The scoring procedure is extremely thorough, with fairness to the candidate always in mind. Borderline scores are always re-checked. Due to the time-consuming nature of this process and an equally thorough evaluation of each video, candidates should expect to receive the results of their certification status in approximately 4 weeks.

VIDEOS

Please also refer to the Specialties section for further information.
YouTube links (preferred), DVDs are accepted.

Videos are required for Levels II and III. They are not required for Level I.

ARIA ran a trial comparing live lessons with videos for the evaluation of an instructor's teaching ability and knowledge. It was determined by all involved that the value of evaluating a video over watching a live lesson is clearly superior in a number of ways, and much more fair to the instructor being evaluated.

1. The instructor is able to prepare his/her best work.
2. The instructor may choose the best conditions for the lesson in terms of horse, student, location, weather, etc.
3. ARIA sends the video lesson to people capable of evaluating the particular riding discipline the student is seeking certification in. (This permits ARIA to offer certification in 16 different specialties, from Driving to Eventing to Mounted Patrol Training Officer)
4. The video evaluators watch the video under ideal conditions (no distractions, no hot & dusty ring, etc.). They also are able to replay the lesson or any part of it, allowing for better evaluation.
5. Such controlled conditions allow the evaluators to properly assume that this is the best lesson the instructor can offer, and they are able to make a fair pass or fail decision.

All videos, for all specialties except Driving, must show work at all 3 gaits. For jumping specialties such as hunt seat and show jumping, work must be shown over fences (except for the Hunt Seat on the flat specialty).

Eventing videos must show work in all 3 phases, including work outside of the arena. A brief warm-up should either be shown, or, you must indicate in your introduction that one has been done prior to the video taping.

The video you submit to ARIA for evaluation must reflect both the classification of certification (Level II or III) and the specialty (hunt seat, saddle seat, etc.) for which you seek certification. If you are seeking certification in more than one specialty, you must submit a separate tape for each.

The video must show that the instructor is capable of teaching a safe, organized and appropriate lesson at the level at which certification is sought. At the same time, it must be safe and appropriate for the student(s) and horse(s) selected for the demonstration lesson. This requirement is not to be construed as requiring that students jump a certain height of fence, for instance, but the instructor must select a subject that demonstrates his/her ability to teach at that level.

Some specialties have specific requirements for the video lesson. (See the section on Specialties).

Look at the video as your opportunity to show the Evaluation Board just how good an instructor you are.

You have time to prepare the lesson and choose the students and horses you will use.

The video you submit should be an example of your best teaching.

We are not looking for professional video taping, but we are looking for an individual who cares enough to think about his/her presentation and presents his tape as required. Please don't leave anything on this tape which you don't want to have evaluated by the Evaluation Board.

About Videotaping: While we don't look for professional videotaping, the Evaluation Board must be able to see, hear and understand your lesson in order to evaluate it fairly. Tell the camera person to show your student(s) most of the time so that we can see what your student is doing and the effect of your teaching. Taping at dusk or in poor light can make it impossible to see what happens. Wind, traffic noise or other background noise is magnified and can drown out your voice. Review your video and be sure it is clear enough visually and audibly to be evaluated fairly. We recommend that you keep a copy of the tape you submit. That way, when you receive your video evaluations, they will be all the more effective and informative. ARIA does not return DVDs, video tapes, or converter boxes.

Format: In preparing your video, please do not exceed a time of 22 minutes, using the following format: (Stable Management videos may be up to 40 minutes):

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. A brief introduction of yourself, the student and the horse. | b. Disposition, age and training of horse. |
| | c. Lesson plan for this lesson. |
| 2. A brief discussion by you, the instructor, giving: | 3. A presentation of a mounted riding lesson. |
| a. Rider's age and level of riding ability. | 4. A brief evaluation by you, the instructor, of the lesson and plan for the next lesson. |

Lesson Topics and Levels: Refer to the section on the definition of levels and choose a lesson topic that will demonstrate that you are competent to teach at that level.

1. Your video must show a lesson at the highest level of certification you are applying for. Be sure your video shows that you are capable of teaching at the upper range of the level you are applying for. A Level III video should show work at the advanced level, and a Level II video should show work at the intermediate level.
2. Your video must show the specialty or specialties (Hunt Seat, Western, Dressage, etc.) for which you seek certification, i.e. in eventing, you must show a lesson relating to cross country jumping, as well as an ability to relate flat work to jumping.

Video Evaluation Criteria:

The ARIA Evaluation Board will be looking for the following when evaluating your video:

Safety: Remember that safety is one of the primary considerations and that your tape will be viewed with safety practices in mind.

Ability to Teach: The ability to teach riding is the ability to communicate clearly the skills and concepts necessary to ride.

Do you use your voice well?

Are your explanations clear?

Do you recognize your student's ability and teach to the appropriate level?

Knowledge of the Subject: The Evaluation Board will consider whether or not you have demonstrated a clear understanding of what you have chosen to teach. Please do not attempt to teach beyond your level of competency.

Remember, your video and your lesson subject must demonstrate your knowledge of the level to which you are applying—i.e.: an applicant for Level III Hunt Seat must show a lesson relating flat work to jumping, suitable for riders who are capable of jumping 3' to 3'6". (Note: It is not required that riders actually jump 3' to 3'6" in this lesson.)

A Level III in Dressage would show a lesson in half-pass, shoulder-in, flying change or other work at 2nd or 3rd level. A Level II or III candidate in Eventing must show work in all 3 phases, including work outside of the arena and must also address importance of conditioning for this level. Level III Western candidates must show a lesson suitable for riders who are capable of competing in Western Horsemanship, or other performance events. (Lesson need not relate to competition, but must be taught to riders at this level.) Candidates for Level III Show Jumping must show a lesson suitable for rider(s) who are capable of competing in the Preliminary Jumper Division. Lesson must include relating flat work to jumping.

Remember that the video is your introduction to the Evaluation Board. It is better to teach a simple concept well than to attempt to teach a more difficult concept not as well.

Work Accomplished: Evaluate your video by considering these questions: What were you trying to accomplish in this lesson? Were you successful? How will you approach your next lesson with this student?

Effect on The Horse: The ultimate objective of any teacher is to teach the rider to improve the horse's behavior and training and its way of going. The lesson should demonstrate awareness and consideration for the horse and an eye for cause and effect. Does the horse get better or worse during the lesson?

Creativity: We want our lessons to be interesting and fun for our students. Consider the following questions as you evaluate your own video for creativity from the point of view of the Evaluation Board.

Is it obvious that you thought about this lesson and know what you want to accomplish?

Have you provided creative solutions to your students' riding problems?

Do you demonstrate an ability to communicate your requests and explanations clearly?

Are you a safe instructor?

One of the questions each Evaluation Board member will ask himself is this:

Would I send my child to this instructor?

Suitability for the Job: The Board is looking critically at your video to see if you have chosen a topic that is appropriate for your knowledge and abilities. They want to know that you thoroughly understand the concept you are teaching.

Personal Appearance: Your personal appearance reflects your professionalism. Neat, clean and appropriate dress is expected.

Discipline: It is important that you are in control of the class you are teaching. We expect you to provide the leadership your students need.

Remember: Videos must follow format to meet requirements! We must be able to see and hear you clearly! YouTube links of your teaching may be submitted to us by e-mail. Or, submit standard DVDs.

Earning your ARIA certification is an important step in your career.
Make it a priority!

Each candidate for ARIA certification must agree to the following:

1. I will promote safe and ethical behavior, both for myself and my students.
2. I will be professional in appearance and demeanor. I will conduct myself and my affairs with honesty, integrity and to the highest standard.
3. I understand that if I earn ARIA certification, there is an annual renewal fee which is due each year.
4. I understand and agree that ARIA and the ARICP reserve the right to refuse and/or deny initial certification for any reason it deems proper.
5. I understand and agree that ARIA and the ARICP reserve the right to revoke certification, at any time, for any reason it deems proper.
6. All tests are confidential and are the property of ARIA and the ARICP. Test scores and video evaluations are sent to the candidate with their results; the tests and/or DVDs/video tapes themselves are not returned.
7. I understand and agree that it is solely and completely the responsibility of the candidate for ARIA certification to clearly demonstrate his/her ability to qualify for the level and specialty applied for. A comprehensive and thorough evaluation is given to each applicant's tests and videos by members of the ARICP Evaluation Board. No further review is given. Anyone not achieving the certification they desire may try again at the reduced rate of $350.00. (Those tests which are passed need not be re-taken if candidate returns for re-testing within one year.)

As an ARIA Certified Instructor, you are a role model, and riding's not all you teach!

"I am grateful to be part of such a wonderful organization of professionals.
Every ARIA instructor I have ever met has been the best example of intergrity and professionalism - all that ARIA stands for."

ARIA's Top Ten Tips to Success

Earning your ARIA certification is an important step in your career.

Having ARIA's nationally-recognized credentials assures your clients of your knowledge as well as your commitment to safety and integrity. Discounts with some of the country's leading insurance companies will help you save money.

Here are Ten Tips to achieving your ARIA certification:

Before Test Day

1. Register early. This will allow you plenty of time to do your two essay tests at home. You will hand these tests in at the Test Center. You will also be assured of a place at the Test Center of your choice.
2. Make sure your paperwork is clean and clear. Fill out all forms completely and legibly. Coffee stains and torn forms don't give a good impression of who you are.
3. Read carefully all the information you receive after registering. If you don't understand something, call or e-mail the ARIA office for clarification.
4. Prepare. Make sure you're confident and ready to test. Realize that nearly everyone has some test anxiety. Accept that fact, relax, and look at the experience of testing as your opportunity to show the Evaluation Panel what a really good instructor you are. You are, aren't you?
5. Make your video an example of your very best work. (Video required at Levels II and III only)
6. Think about your Candidate Presentation in advance. Prepare it, time it (3-4 minutes), and present it in front of a friend for a critique before the Test Center. Is it clear, concise and meaningful?
7. Make earning your ARIA certification a priority. Careless, sloppy work won't put that certificate on the wall. Take the time to do things right. Pay attention to what is asked, and do it.

On Test Day

8. Get to the Test Center early. Have everything you were asked to bring ready to hand in. Be proud of what you're handing in! Don't make excuses for videos which can't be heard, tests which your puppy chewed on, horses that were lame, etc. ARIA looks for maturity and professionalism in its certified instructors – make a good first impression!
9. Be rested and ready. A late night the evening before your testing won't help you be at your best. Make sure your home and barn are in good hands and forget about them on test day.
10. Focus and concentrate on the work at hand. Look at the tests as your way to show us what you know. Tests are designed to be straightforward and to allow for differences in techniques and methods.

Also - Show courtesy, professionalism and respect to everyone, always. From your fellow instructors to your students and boarders, and from the parents of your students to the staff at horse shows and other events. It's expected of an ARIA instructor.

Realize that nearly everyone has some test anxiety. Accept that fact, relax, and look at the experience of testing as your opportunity to show the Evaluation Panel what a really good instructor you are. You are, aren't you?

“This is an excellent program and encompasses many disciplines. I highly recommend it and feel that everyone teaching riding should be certified. I find it hard to believe that people have to be licensed to cut hair, but not to put a six-year-old child on a thousand pound animal. You leave feeling very energized and even more excited about teaching than you have ever been before. Additionally, you will make some new equestrian friends that you would otherwise never have had the opportunity to meet.”
